NOVELTY CHOCOLATIERS

SUZANNE AND MICHAEL HAD BEEN IN BUSINESS FOR A YEAR, AS NOVELTY CHOCOLATIERS.

Their business plan had projected gradual growth over a five year period but things didn't quite work out that way. As their first year of trading drew to a close, the company's growth had outstripped their five year projections completely. They had hired extra staff and apprentice chocolatiers but were caught up in an administrative nightmare.

Suzanne and Michael wanted to focus on the creative side of their business, so they had employed administrative staff to take care of their financial records and payroll.

Unfortunately, they had inadvertently hired inexperienced staff and their financial records were in meltdown. Luckily, at an entrepreneurs network meeting someone handed them a Wagstaffs' business card. The very next day they got in touch.

Our Business Support team acted quickly to untangle the payroll problems and get their financial records up-to-speed. Going forward, our bespoke software and in-house staff training ensured that their previously inexperienced staff went from strength-to-strength, becoming an asset to their business.

There was a happy outcome for all concerned. With financial and administrative functions running smoothly, Suzanne and Michael were, once again, able to focus on their first love – chocolate! ■
